Brooksville Child Care visited by Miss “Mollie Moo” and her friends . . .

Showing much excitement and much enthusiasm, the children of the Brooksville Child Care gave their help to local dairy producer, Louise Moneyhon, for a salute to June Dairy Month as she visited them on Thursday, June 12, 2014, assisted by Miss “Mollie Moo”.

Following a question and answer lesson on dairy animals and dairy products, refreshments of ice cream, chocolate chip cookies, and bottled water were enjoyed.

“Dairy Packs Power” tee shirts featuring the “Dairy Crate Defenders”, - “Dairy Boy”, “Princess Cheese”, “Yo-Gurt” and “Dos Leches” were given to each child and were provided by SUDIA the Southeast United Dairy Industry Association, Inc.

A goody-bag was also given to the children compliments of SUDIA and Moneyhon Registered Jersey Dairy of Augusta. Much appreciation to Stephanie Hamilton, owner and operator of Brooksville Child Care and her wonderful staff Holly Brothers, Megan Littleton, Raven Reed, Tasha Sharp, Rhonda Teegarden, Sarah White, and Bethany Wolfe, and to those future citizens of tomorrow, for they already are aware of the importance of the essential and healthy dairy products of the dairy farmer who works twice-a-day, seven days a week to produce them.

“Hats off” to each and every dedicated dairy farmer!

Dairy Farming Still Plays a Role in Bracken County

By: David Appelman, CEA for ANR

As you drive around Bracken County, you can see numerous farms that still have facilities left from when they were dairy farms. Concrete block milkhouses, silos, and even the stanchions or milking parlors, still remind us of our dairy history. In the late 60’s and early 70’s, Bracken County had over 65 dairies so many farm families still have the understanding of the commitment and work that goes into running a dairy.

Today, we still have 5 families operating dairies here in Bracken County. They are Kevin Nesbitt, Billy Brothers, Tom & Steve Buser, Carl B. Moneyhon, and William Miley. At this time, prices are more favorable than in recent years. Grain prices are lower and the price farmers are receiving for the milk is higher due to strong export markets. Still, this is only a short term fix to the financial challenges that have plagued producers for many years. A strong and consistent market is needed for producers to operate their farm.

This past year, a number of dairies closed in the county due to retirements, lack of family members to continue the operation, and financial constraints. For the farms that continue to operate, we hope that the profitability continues to reward them for all the effort and commitment they bring each day of the year to produce “nature’s most perfect food”.

Help us celebrate June Dairy Month by enjoying all dairy products and congratulate our dairy families that follow the theme of this year’s campaign, “Dedicated to Dairy – Our Cows, Our Milk, Our Land”.

From Brooksville Centennial Celebration 1839-1939 Bracken County Infirmary Conclusion

The first superintendent was N. C. Doyle, and the present Superintendent is W. F. Poe, who will have served 19 years on Jan. 1, 1940.

Much of the control is in the hands of two Commissioners, Mr. Geo. S. Taylor and Mr. Philip Lippert. Mr. Taylor, who has served for 19 years, is now the Receiver and Mr. Lippert, who has served for 14 years, is now the Clerk.

All of these gentlemen have served their county well and the county is to be congratulated upon having citizens who have taken such an active interest in the affairs of the county.

Much of the food consumed by the inmates is produced on the farm. The farm has a fine herd of registered Hereford cattle and also has a nice herd of Jerseys for milk. Some of the Jersey cattle are registered.

The average number of inmates is 22 but since the old age pension has been in effect the number of inmates has been reduced.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

GRATITUDE, CONTENTMENT AND ANXIETY

This is the day that the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. - Psalm 118:24

A simple prayer of thanks is a great way to start and end every day. We have so much to be thankful for, and reminding ourselves of that fact will improve the quality of our lives. But, how do we know if we are truly and genuinely showing gratitude to God? With our family and friends it is easy enough to know if we are genuinely grateful. In that case, we will feel and express appreciation and be happy with our gift. We might extend this same analysis to God: are we genuinely appreciative of God's gifts to us (our lives, our talents, our work, and our family and friends) and are we genuinely content with how things are working out in our lives? A true sense of gratitude to God should lead to a profound sense of contentment with our lives. This doesn't mean that we won't strive to make things better; there are many things that could stand to be improved. But, it does mean that as we go about our lives we manifest a satisfaction and contentment with things, and especially the little things we cannot change. Gratitude naturally brings with it a deep contentment which will banish fear and anxiety from our lives. So, we should keep in mind all that we have to be thankful for.

KSP participates in coordinated effort to lock up child predators

Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) task forces around the country, including the Kentucky State Police, launched "Operation Broken Heart" on May 1st, a coordinated strike by law enforcement representing more than 3,000 federal, state and local law enforcement agencies--with the sole purpose of arresting as many child predators as possible.

The Kentucky Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force says the operation concentrated on offenders who: (1) possess, manufacture and distribute child pornography; (2) engage in online enticement of children for sexual purposes; (3) engage in the commercial sexual exploitation of children (commonly referred to as child prostitution) and (4) engage in child sex tourism (traveling abroad for the purpose of sexually abusing foreign children).

The combined efforts of the Kentucky Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force resulted in approximately 52 investigations and 12 arrests across the state. ICAC affiliate agencies from the State Attorney General's Office, Boone County Sheriff's Office, Bowling Green PD, Campbell County PD, Hopkinsville PD, Kenton County PD, Lexington PD and the Kentucky State Police participated in the month long operation.

On this beautiful, sunny Sun., June 15, we had 58 to SS and 127 to worship service. We welcome our guest today and hope you will join us again.

JoAnn Brown played "Precious Memories" on the piano and Jane Nelson played songs that took us back to our childhood days - "Give Me Oil In My Lamp", "Do Lord", "Halleluiah". The congregation was led by John Harmon and JoAnn Brown - of course our side with John Harmon was a lot louder!

Debbie McElfresh (and we were glad to have her back with us) presented gifts to fathers on this Father's Day: eldest father - John Henderson; youngest child father - Donovan Silvey; one with most quarters - Bob Florer; father with pets - Johnny Nickerson; father with most children - Bob Wolfe. All men received a gift.

Bro. Jackie's message was "Five Ways To Be A Good Father". Proverbs 22:6. Love your wife; don't expect perfect children; enjoy your children; listen to your children; provide for your children.

Remember in prayer: Each name on the prayer list and always each other. We were glad to have Gary Cummins back with us. He has been in the hospital for severely low platelet count. Keep in prayer Colby Davis, John Cooper, Roy Allen Jett, Ethel McCall, Brygton Beach (tonsilectomy on Fri.), all those with cancer and other health problems, and most of all the lost.

May all fathers let their light shine for Jesus!

BROOKSVILLE ASSEMBLY OF GOD by Janice Whitney

10:00a.m. - Christian Education: The process of living often leads us into tests, trials and a general sense of uncertainty. We can become discouraged and question who we are and what is our real purpose in life.

The Apostle Paul wrote a letter to the Saints in Ephesus with the purpose of helping them come to an understanding of who they were in God's eyes. Sundays' lesson is titled, "Getting a Real Sight of God".

11:00 a.m. - Worship Service: As the Eternal God, Jesus came to live on earth as a man. We understand He came to be our sacrifice to atone for our sins. Part of that process was that Jesus would experience life as a human, thus enriching His work on the cross. As a man Jesus spent much time in prayer to His Father seeking guidance and strength. Pastor Norm Whitney's message, "Preparing for Life".

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES by Caroline Jefferson

Sincerest appreciation to all who supported our Bake Sale this past Saturday!

Mass is Friday evenings at 7 PM and we urge everyone to take advantage of this opportunity to come together in prayers of thanksgiving and worship for the many blessings received daily.

Sunday, June 22, all are invited to 8 AM Mass and to join us afterwards in the Parish Hall for our Monthly Fourth Sunday Breakfast! Donations are accepted, but the good food and fellowship are free. The July breakfast is cancelled because that is the weekend of our 100th Anniversary Celebration and Ice Cream Social; however, everyone is cordially invited to participate in this weekend event for good food and fellowship!

Items are needed for the Country Store and Silent Auction, as are pop and bottled water donations, and it's not too early to make the ice cream that is so vital to this project! Ms. Debbie has posted sign-up sheets in church for workers in the Kitchen, Food Booth, Bingo and Kiddie Land. Being a small parish, we will need each of you to work more than one station! Please be generous with your time, talent and treasure to make this event 100% successful!

Roy Reed honored with 100th birthday celebration

Mr. Roy Reed celebrated his 100th birthday on June 11, 2014. A birthday party was held in his honor on Sunday, June 8, at Bethany Church of Christ. Over 100 members of the community honored his century of achievements. He was presented a framed certificate from the church by Steve Myers, minister at Bethany, recognizing his many years of service to his community. Shown with Mr. Reed is Wilford Lynn Meyer, an elder of the church. Mr. Reed was also named a Kentucky Colonel.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

We just completed a very busy week in our church. We had our Soup Supper this past Monday and in addition to having soup, we had baked spaghetti. This went across very well. This coming Monday are serving chili plus chicken fajitas. This past Wednesday we had 73 who came to enjoy our bread basket meal.

Friday was our father's day celebration and we had a number who attended. Some said this was the largest celebration that we have ever had.

This past Sunday we had 52 who attended church. On Mother's Day, we had 78 but I was aware that there are more who attend on Mother's Day than Father's Day.

We started a new Bible Study in our adult Bible class. David England was the teacher because Earl Bush was out of town. This first class was based on Jesus' baptism.

Mary Murray led the worship, Susie Hargett led the singing, and Shelby England had children's church.

Normally we pray the Lord's Prayer each Sunday but this time, Susie Hargett sang the Lord's Prayer. We need to do this more often.

On Monday night we will have our Soup Supper and afterwards, those who are interested in Bible School need to be present for a planning meeting.

Next week we will have a Gideon inform us of the works that the Gideon's do.

My message this week was based on father's day. The best example of the love and forgiveness of a father is contained in the parable of the Prodigal Son or as I like to call the parable, the parable of the loving and forgiving father.

Club NewsHANNAH CUMMINS WOMEN ON MISSION

Hannah Cummins Women on Mission of Willow Baptist Church met Wed., June 11. First stop was a visit with Juanita Bentle at Maysville Nursing & Rehab. Seven members brought cheer, news, fresh flowers, and blessings to Juanita. Next stop was deSha's to eat. Without missing a beat a group of nine ventured to Kenton Pointe to visit Martha Peddicord. We received a tour of the building and had our own private meeting room. To keep our strength up, Martha served ice cream & strawberry short cake!

The meeting began with a short program "Praying In All Things". The writer shared the wonderful & engaging prayer life of George Muller. He had developed such strong faith that he would wait for the Lord to provide his needs. Do you pray God's will would be done in all things? As we pray for our church to grow and VBS to be a success, let us remember the example George Muller gave us.

Pres. Wright opened the business meeting with the watch word from Acts 4:20. Congratulations to our church for meeting the goals set for the Lottie Moon Offering, Annie Armstrong Offering and Sunrise Home for Children. A goal of $500 was set for the Eliza Broadus offering. Preliminary plans for hosting the Union Assoc. Meeting in Oct. were made.

To honor Tina Wolfe, a devoted Christian and an exuberant worker for the Lord at Willow, a framed picture, Guardian Angel, will be placed in the nursery.

Attending were: Krista Staggs & son, Joy Sanchez & children, Eunice Brooks, Karen Wright, Virginia Bowles, Amy Cooper, Carol Klaber, Mae Jo Flaughter, Susie Perkins, Evelyn Cooper, Martha Peddicord, and guest Miranda Autry.

TRIPLE RIDGE

Triple Ridge Homemakers met Tues., June 10 at the lovely home of Judith Richards in Augusta. Judith, with the assistance of Louise Moneyhon, served a wonderful sit down dinner to fourteen members and one guest. Margarette Carl gave the invocation. After the delicious meal Pres. Judith called the meeting to order beginning with the pledge to the flag.

Thought for the day was "Words of the tongue should have three gates" - true, kind or necessary. President read a poem "Super Women Freedom Plea". Roll call was answered to "What song makes you think of summer"?

Louise Moneyhon called guest Henry Fry to the center and read the document naming him Honorary member of Triple Ridge Homemaker Club. Henry is the 13 yr. old son of Amy Fry and attends each meeting with her. We really enjoy Henry and he is learning a lot from us - maybe too much!

Brenda Welte gave treas. report stating the club is in good financial standing. Committee reported on the planned trip to tour Toyota Aug. 5. Karen Sweeney had a copy of rules required by Toyota for the tour.

Annual meeting is June 26 at 6 p.m. at the Extension Office. Price $15 per person. Homemakers to bring self-made items to display.

Committee was appointed to select officers for coming year - Margarette Carl, Sue Lucas, Janice Hicks. Report back to club by Aug. Election at Sept. meeting.

Skills Day Sept. 6 in Fleming Co. LRA is Oct. 11 at 11 a.m. at Maysville Country Club. Want 10 door prizes.

President expressed the wonderful contribution Triple Ridge made to Pioneered Day. Did a great job with all their presentations. Discussed a celebration for Extension Office 100th year. Maybe a square dance being suggested.

After business, several listened to Judith tell about the former college in Augusta and all about the battle there, etc. Very interesting!

Next meeting is at the home of Sue Lucas in Maysville.

Kentucky State Police Warns of Leaving Children in Hot Cars

The Kentucky State Police remind parents not to leave a child alone in a hot car as temperatures in the Bluegrass are on the rise. It may seem like common sense, but every year law enforcement agencies answer calls about unattended children in vehicles. The National Safety Council (NSC) reports that nine children have already died in 2014 from being left in hot cars across the U.S.

An ongoing study by San Francisco State University estimates that since 1998, there have been 615 heatstroke deaths of children left in vehicles, an average of 38 deaths per year. Most of those deaths were children under the age of two-years.

In 2000, Kentucky passed "Bryan's Law," which makes a person liable for second-degree manslaughter or first-degree wanton endangerment for leaving a child younger than eight years of age in a motor vehicle where circumstances pose a grave risk of death. The law was named after 11-month old Bryan Puckett, who died July 13, 1999 after being left in a hot car by his babysitter.

KSP spokesman Sgt. Michael Webb says most people know the dangers of leaving a child in a hot car, but each year these senseless tragedies continue to occur.

Shown above: This photo, courtesy of General Motors, depicts the temperature change within a vehicle (in ten minute time) when outside temperature is 80 degrees.

"A child's body heats up three to five times faster than that of an adult," says Webb. "The temperature inside a car can rise 19 degrees in 10 minutes. Together, this can be deadly in a very short period of time."

Kentucky's last reported death from a child being left in a car was during 2012 in Louisville. The NSC reports that 44 children died last year from vehicular heatstroke in the U.S.

Webb offers the following safety tips:

- Never leave a child in an unattended car, even with the windows down.
- Be sure that all occupants leave the vehicle when unloading. Don't overlook sleeping babies.
- Always lock your car. If a child is missing, check the car first, including the trunk. Teach your children that vehicles are never to be used as a play area.

- Keep a stuffed animal in the car seat and when the child is put in the seat place the animal in the front with the driver as a reminder.

- Place your purse or briefcase in the back seat as a reminder that you have your child in the car.
- Make 'look before you leave' a routine whenever you get out of the car.

Webb says while a person will face criminal charges for leaving a child in a car, the pain and guilt from making such a mistake will last far longer.

KSP asks citizens to keep an eye out for children left in vehicles on hot days and to call 911 if they think the occupant is in danger.

TRASH TALK
 by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug
606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! Sunday's weather was perfect for Father's Day celebrations and we hope that everyone was able to spend the day with their Dad! Our day was blissfully filled with visits and phone calls! God has indeed blest us with a wonderful family for which we give thanks each and every day! Weather predictions for this week are calling for hot conditions to usher in the beginning of summer on Saturday! Guess it is time to dust off the air conditioning units and install them. While this is not a favorite task, coming home to cool air is certainly an incentive for us to get it in gear and get the job done! Please remember to drink plenty of water during the summer months and to wear your sunscreen!

Summer, of course, is not the season that we think of more clothing, but less, and the presentation at the recent Division of Waste Management Workshop by Mr. Bob Knecht of the Ohio Mills Corporation presented some interesting facts about the textile industry that we don't normally think about. Everyone is encouraged to recycle, reuse and reduce all that we possibly can, but we need to expand our range and scope of items that come to mind when we think of the 3 R's, namely clothing and other textiles.

Mind boggling as it is to contemplate, the fact is that over 80 billion NEW garments are produced annually worldwide, and the average person discards 82 pounds of textiles a year which would include cloth-made products, as well as clothing. In 2010, the EPA estimated that 5.2% or 13 million tons of the U.S. municipal waste stream was textile waste, and by the year 2019, this amount will increase by another 10 million pounds to 23 million pounds! Moving closer to home, in Kentucky in 2012, 5,117,599 tons were land filled and of that amount, 266,115 tons was textile waste which means we need to start doing a better job of recycling, reusing and reducing the textile products that we use.

Another annual report completed in 2011 by the Division of Waste Management, predicted that Kentucky will run out of landfill permitted air space in 44.6 years. Natural fibers take hundreds of years to decompose, and once in the landfill they release methane and CO2 gas into the atmosphere. Petroleum is the main ingredient in the more durable textiles that are made from synthetics and these durable products are designed not to decompose. Once in the landfill they release toxicants into the groundwater and surrounding soil. We are pretty sure that we won't be around, but many of you will and it is up to all of us to begin to rein in these numbers so that you folks living in 2058 will be able to appreciate the efforts made in this day and time that will allow you a reasonable quality and quantity of life!

Mr. Knecht concluded his presentation by saying that he believed people want to be good stewards of the earth for our families, our families' future families and all the little ones that enter the world for decades to come. He said that unfortunately, we tend to become a bit lazier with every new generation and we need for things to be as simple and convenient as possible. This is sort of ironic, since in today's world, the need to recycle is greater than ever to preserve our world. We add our sentiments to his by once again reminding you to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you - Bin & Bug.

A sit-and-chat-awhile list, who would be on yours?

Getting old, how much dearer the afternoons. How mellow and pleasing, the quiet. We see more, listen better and hold the tongue more easily than before. Minutes have new value and hours can be sweet as strawberry ripple in June. And melt at much the same speed.

At dusk fire flies kindle fond memories on the front porch and a breeze simply has to be a kiss from angels. When sun climbs down to a tree line, if you're like me, a grateful sigh comes along followed by a barely audible whisper, "thank you ... for this day."

Sun sets are dearer too and we're more circumspect about life. For me, from places I've traveled, people I've known, read about, admired (and not), a question always rises. The one in this photograph.

With whom would I most like to have a sit-on-a-bench-and-chat-awhile experience? And, what question would I most like an answer?

Who would be on your list?

This week, at random, a few on mine.

Mark Twain. If you had a re-write for, "I have been on the verge of being an angel all my life, but it's never happened yet," how would it go?

W.P. 'Bill' Kinsella.

Your novel Shoeless Joe (1982) became arguably the best sports motion picture of all time. What did you think of Field Of Dreams?

Roberto Clemente. We miss you. Tell me, what's it like, Heaven?

Ted Williams. Explain your thinking on having your head frozen for eternity?

Mark McGuire. Didn't have to cheat, did you, big guy?

Pete Rose. Cheating for more money earned a ban from Baseball's Hall of Fame. Why is "I'm sorry," not enough?

Ed O'Bannon. Are you proud being point man to make college basketball into a professional sport?

Dan Snyder. Embattled owner of Washington's NFL team, this question: When you step to line of scrimmage at th Great Super Bowl in the sky, what if Referee is native American?

Roy Williams. Will Rashad McCants' teammates bring out their transcripts? Fair enough, right Roy?

Laura Hillenbrand. Author of best sellers Sea Biscuit and more recently Unbroken, explain the blending of precision research and delicious prose.

George Clooney. Long before the glam, what were your dreams, and best of times at Augusta High School in Bracken County?

Barry Bonds. Ironic isn't it, your legacy? One of best there ever was ... on same list with another racist, Ty Cobb?

Jay Bilas. Being the mass media's Mahatma, knowing how to solve all things NCAA, will you apply to be its next president?

Marshall Henderson. Tell me about yourself, kid? Where do you expect to be in five years?

Billy Donovan. When you declined the Kentucky job was it the best decision of your professional life, or not?

Larry Bird. In chill of an Indiana winter when the movie Hoosiers comes on television what do you think about?

Bill Mazerowski. Evening of October 13, 1960, after a World Series Game 7 walk-off home run, you and wife Milene drove to the top of Mt. Washington above Pittsburgh watched the celebration. In those pinnacle moments what does a hero talk about?

Rick Pitino. All your celebrity aside, you could have done something extraordinary back there in 1992, but chose to ignore extraordinary opportunity to save an extraordinary little Catholic high school.Why?

Rick Atkinson. From The Day of Battle, The War in Sicily and Italy, tell me about the passage: "... the circling stars glided on their courses. The poets and the dreamers again struck their tents and shouldered their rifles to begin that long, last march."

Seneca The Elder (54 BC–39 AD) wrote: "It is not the man who has too little, but the man who craves more, who is poor." I wager you're not surprised at how profoundly your observation applies today?

Harry Caudill. With Night Comes to the Cumberlands in mind, what say you about today's so-called War On Coal?

Mr. Lincoln. What say you about a nation conflicted, divided by greed and racial hatred? Not in 1865, but 2014?

Isham Sharp. Would you start at the beginning, please, Grandpa?

Finally ...

Rick Reilly. A chat wouldn't do it. Too many questions. So, forgive me please, Rick, for stealing two lines from your last work as a sports columnist:

"No writer in history is more flawed than me, but it was never for lack of trying. It was always in my attempt to get to the truth, or to make it fun, or to make it add up to something meaningful to you."

And so it goes.

Raise a Glass (of Milk), Toast Dairy Month

Governor Proclaims June Dairy Month in KY

Governor Steve Beshear recognized the official beverage of Kentucky by proclaiming June 2014 Dairy Month in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Gov. Beshear signed a proclamation recognizing the importance of Kentucky's dairy industry to the Commonwealth.

"I urge all Kentuckians to support Kentucky's dairy industry, and to salute Kentucky's dairy farmers and processors for their contributions to Kentucky," said Gov. Beshear. "The Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund has helped the regrowth of Kentucky's dairy industry with more than $13 million in grants and loans related to the dairy industry."

Dairy farming is a family tradition, one that has been a way of life for many generations. Kentucky dairy farmers and processors are proud to provide consumers and their families with safe, wholesome dairy foods. They take pride in producing a nutritious product for their neighbors and communities.

More than 125 million gallons of milk are produced on Kentucky farms. In 2013, cash receipts from the sale of milk were nearly $226 million, making a vital contribution to the economy of Kentucky. Kentucky also boasts several dairy processing facilities that produce a variety of dairy products, including gourmet cheeses, yogurts, cottage cheese, bottled milk, salad dressings and ice cream.

During June, the Kentucky Dairy Development Council (KDDC), Southeast United Dairy Industry Association (SUDIA), the Dairy Processors Association of Kentucky (DPAK) and the Kentucky Department of Agriculture (KDA) will celebrate dairy month with special events across the state.

The theme for this year's celebration is "Dairy Packs Power!" Dairy foods offer nine essential nutrients including calcium, vitamin D, protein and potassium, which play key roles in building strong bones and teeth. Milk, cheese and yogurt "pack power" with protein and are a healthy part of a balanced, nutritious diet.

Take time to celebrate June Dairy Month by enjoying the many dairy products available locally, including an ice cold glass of milk – the official beverage of Kentucky.

For more information about the Southeast United Dairy Industry Association (SUDIA), visit www.south-eastdairy.org or visit www.junedairymonth.org for ways to celebrate the occasion.

Tobacco setting 80-85% complete in Bracken County, doing well

Matt Raymer took advantage of the beautiful weather on Monday, June 16th to set tobacco along Highway 10 near Germantown on the Old Hay Farm now owned by Perry Poe. Raymer's family farm raises 25 acres of tobacco with plants from their own greenhouses.

Cassidy Jefferson, Chino Morales, Franciso DeLeon, and Brett Raymer are shown at left setting the tobacco plants in rows as Matt Raymer drives the tractor. Morales and DeLeon have helped the Raymers for approximately 15 years and have watched Matt's son, Brett, grow up. Cassidy and Brett are both 2014 graduates of Bracken County High School.

According to David Appelman, CEA of Ag and Natural Resources, Bracken County is 80-85% set and doing well. Some crops are showing signs of nutrient deficiency and phosphorus. For questions about your crops call the Extension Office at 606-735-2141.

Tobacco Agreement Will Restore 2014 Agriculture, Early Childhood, Health Care Budget Cuts

Governor Steve Beshear and Attorney General Jack Conway announced a victory not only for Kentucky farmers, but also for critical health care and early childhood services funded by the 1998 tobacco Master Settlement Agreement (MSA).

As a result of the agreement between Kentucky and tobacco manufacturers prompted by an adverse ruling in the 2003 MSA arbitration proceeding, the state has settled 10 years of disputed claims and litigation, starting with 2003 payments and running through 2012.

The settlement relieves the state from the financial and administrative burden of litigating disputes over events that occurred a decade ago, and provides a framework for evaluating the parties' obligations going forward. It also ensures that Kentucky will continue receiving its MSA payments. With this agreement, Kentucky joins 22 other states that have elected to settle Non-Participating Manufacturer MSA disputes.

Under the agreement announced today, Kentucky receives $110.4 million in disputed and related payments and will avoid a long and expensive legal battle. Combined with the $48.3 million in payments already received this fiscal year, the total MSA payments for FY14 total is $158.7 million, which is $67.9 million more than budgeted for FY14.

However, estimated receipts for FY15 are $26.6 million less than budgeted, and FY16 are $15.9 million more. Overall, Kentucky stands to receive $57.2 million more in MSA payments over the next three years than budgeted.

"Our first priority with this money is to fully restore $42.5 million in 2014 budget cuts in areas like lung cancer research, county agriculture funds, and early childhood oral and mental health assistance, while maintaining this level of funding in 2015," Gov. Beshear said. "This agreement will ensure funding availability for future investments in these programs that continue to have a positive impact on the Commonwealth."

"The settlement ends a long-running dispute and restores certainty to Kentucky's annual payments from the 1998 Master Settlement Agreement," Attorney General Conway said. "Under the terms of the settlement, we avoid the possibility of costly litigation and the potential loss of the entire annual MSA payment."

Through the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund or KADF, Kentucky has invested more than $400 million in MSA funds for an array of county, regional and state projects designed to increase net farm income and create sustainable new farm-based business enterprises. Since the inception of KADF in January 2001, Kentucky has funded more than 4,800 projects.

The MSA is the result of an agreement between 52 states and territories and the major tobacco companies worth approximately $229 billion.

Under the terms of the parties' agreement, the participating tobacco manufacturers make annual payments to the state. States have monitoring obligations to ensure that any manufacturers that are not signatories to the agreement do not circumvent the laws requiring escrow payments to the states.

If a state fails to adequately fulfill its monitoring obligations, then its payment from the participating manufacturers is reduced. The states and the participating manufacturers must arbitrate their disputes under the MSA for each year covered by the Arbitrations for 2003 only concluded in 2013. The arbitration panel found that Kentucky had not met its enforcement obligations in 2003 under the MSA, resulting in the lower 2014 MSA payment that led to the $42.5 million budget reduction.

MSA.

"The MSA has been an important part of Kentucky's agricultural growth over the last several years; farmers and farm advocates across this state can testify to the importance of the MSA and the KADF programs it supports," said Roger Thomas, executive director of the Governor's Office of Agricultural Policy. "While Kentucky strongly believes that we made a good case for our diligence in 2003, the arbitration panel ruled otherwise. The decision highlights the unpredictable nature of the arbitration process, which will be conducted by a different panel and under different procedures for each succeeding year. This settlement provides Kentucky with certainty and fiscal stability in these vital areas for the foreseeable future."
